COMANCHE IS SOON TO HAVE HOSPITAL

THE SANDS OF DEE

By Charles Kingsley

"O Mary, go and call the cattle home
And call the cattle home,
And call the cattle home,
Across the sands of Dee!"
The western wind was wild and dank
With foam,
And all alone went she.

The western tide crept up along the sand,
And o'er and o'er the sand,
And round and round the sand,
As far as eye could see.
The rolling mist came down and hid
the land:
And never home came she.

"Oh! it is weed, or fish, or floating hair—
A tress of golden hair,
A drowned maiden's hair
Above the nets at sea?
Was never salmon yet that shone so fair
Among the stakes on Dee."

They rowed her in across the rolling foam,
The cruel crawling foam,
To her grave beside the sea:
But still the boatmen hear her call the cattle home
Across the sands of Dee!

Shetlands
New York children are no different from those in any other part of the country in one respect. They all long for a pony. It does not matter that they cannot ride them on the street here but must get into Central Park, or one of the others they want them anyhow.

Very often this urge for a Shetland often leads the family into the suburbs. Hundreds of ponies are enjoying life mooching along the quiet lanes and by-roads to be found in the suburbs within twenty miles of City Hall.

First Cost Small

Buying a Shetland pony, if one is careful, need not be an expensive operation. On the lower East Side there exists a sales stable, still called the Bull's Head Stables, probably dating from Revolutionary Days. Here horse auctions are held two or three times a week and here come the operators of the "ten cents a ride" concessions at Coney Island and other open-air places of amusement to re-stock their stables.

Sturdy ponies that come up to one's waist only can be bought very often for as low as $25 apiece. They make ideal pets as they are kind and tractable and, seemingly, never tire of carrying around their little owners. It is a sight to see some little child at the sale overcome by a true case of "love at first sight" when a diminutive pony is offered for sale. Also, it is often rather costly for Dad.

Bygone Days

Years ago, in Denver, there used to be a business man who came down to business every day mounted on a magnificent steed. He had trained the animal in the Southern way and the reins never were drawn tight. A slight pressure of the fingers on the horse's side, hardly observable to the uninitiated, or the movement of the rider's hand to the right or left in front of the pommel, gave the horse all the direction it needed.

People out there never tired of watching the rider, who often left his office for an hour or so in the middle of the day and put his horse through its paces along Sixteenth Street.

It was about the same year as August Belmont, the famous banker, used to drive down to Wall Street each morning behind a spanking pair of bays. It is not being done now, thanks to the automobile.

Mrs. Coman Sheny and children of Waco spent last week in Comanche with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Williams.

DR. OSTERHOUT TO OPEN CLINIC AND HOSPITAL

Comanche is to have a sanitarium and modern clinic according to Dr. J. J. Osterhout of Goldthwaite, who was in Comanche Tuesday and consumed a deal to establish a clinic and a hospital here.

Dr. Osterhout has leased what is known as the Arther house, and will convert this into a sanitarium, according to his statement to local physicians.

Dr. Osterhout has practiced in Goldthwaite for the past four years where he operated a hospital, and he will move to Comanche on June 15.

Mrs. Osterhout, who is a nurse, will have charge of the hospital.

Dr. Osterhout has earned for himself an enviable reputation as a surgeon during his four years at Goldthwaite.

Two From County Served Sentences Under Invalid Law

One person from Comanche County is now serving a state prison term for wife and child desertion and another has already served a six months jail term according to District Clerk Frank Howington who last week recorded the dismissal of five similar cases by order of the District Court when the higher courts held the law invalid on account of irregularities in its passage by the legislature two years ago when the offense was raised from a misdemeanor to a felony.

Frank Walker was given a year for an alleged wife and child desertion in Comanche last June and accepted the sentence, soon afterwards leaving for Huntsville where he has almost completed his term.

H. H. Jamar was given six months in jail for desertion last June and completed his sentence.

R. D. Hughes was given two years on an alleged similar offense last fall by a Comanche County jury but was later granted a new trial.

STEPHENVILLE, May 21.—More than 150 members of the United States Highway 67 Association meeting here today, discussed plans for paving the 785 mile stretch of road that spans 27 counties between Texarkana and Presidio, elected officers and endorsed the state highway bond amendment that failed of passage by the Legislature.

State Senator Carl Hardin of Stephenville was elected president; Clay Holson, Alpine; W. G. Wendland, San Angelo; Judge W. T. House, Comanche; and Ray Christian, Dallas, vice presidents, and Ray Franks of Dublin, treasurer.

Resolutions urged counties on the road to vote bond issues for paving the gaps. The route now has 135 miles of concrete paving and 243 miles of asphalt. A message was received from H. E. Dupuy at Presidio, saying that as soon as the Juarez-Chihuahua road was completed, work would start on the Chihuahua-Ojinaga route, connecting Chihuahua with Highway 67 at Presidio on the border. Plans were made for a motorecade from Texarkana to Chihuahua City in June.

Luncheon was served at John Tarleton College.—Star Telegram

2 TRIALS TOOK COURT'S TIME

Two alleged rape cases occupied the first four days of District Court this week with another special venire called for today to begin the third case.

All Monday was consumed in selecting a jury in the T. J. Starks case, the venire of 74 men being used up and an additional half dozen called to secure the eleventh and twelfth jurors, both sides using up their challenges. Tuesday was devoted to hearing the witnesses, a night session being held for the argument.

The case against Oris Norwood was begun Wednesday morning and the jury was completed in the afternoon. He was given five years. No verdict had been reached in the Stark case.

CANNING PLANT STARTS THIRD SEASONS RUN

The Bowdoin Canning Plant made its initial run of the season Thursday afternoon when the first early berries were brought in. The season opened four or five days later than last year according to Paul Bowdoin who said the crop was later due to the first berries being killed by the frost and the subsequent cold weather. The total crop is expected to be as heavy or heavier than last year Mr. Bowdoin said.

The second run will be made Monday according to Mr. Bowdoin who said that the plant would likely be in operation three days next week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

LAW BY DE WOLFE MAJOR MEASURE

Among those classed by the press as the six major laws passed by the Legislature was the permanent split tax payment plan, a bill introduced by Representative Homer C. DeWolfe of Mills and Comanche counties.

The new law provides that those who wish may pay their state and county tax as here to state, on or before January 31 without a penalty, but those who prefer the split payment plan may do so by paying half on or before November 1, the remainder to be paid with interest or penalty on or before June 1.

The five listed as major laws are the 3 cents tax on a package of 20 cigarettes, an increase on the sulphur tax from 55 to 75 cents per ton, legalizing of Sunday picture shows, limiting loads of cotton trucks to 10 bales and giving West Texas owners of shoal land title to all mineral rents and bonuses.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore spent the week end in Fort Worth and Mineral Wells.

TWO CARS OF WOOL SHIPPED

Two cars of wool, totaling 60,000 pounds were shipped Wednesday from Comanche over the Frisco to Boston by the Co-Operative Association. An advance of 13.5 to 14.5 cents net to the producers was made.

Approximately six cars remain in storage according to O. O. Brightman, who said a second shipment would be made Friday afternoon.

Saturday 10,000 pounds went out by truck to Galveston. This was contracted several weeks ago for 18 cents by Stokes Bros. of Lampasas.

WILL STOP SALE LOCAL PRODUCTS IN WEST TEXAS

That the Anti-Peddler Law, passed by the Legislature in its closing hours Saturday, will prove ruinous to Comanche County truck growers is feared by those whose chief interest is in this character of farming, according to those interviewed.

The so-called Anti-Peddler Law fixes a license fee for those who buy melons, produce and truck and re-sell it in other counties.

Under the law as passed, the peddler must pay a fee in as many counties as he operates, unless he is selling stuff produced by him or he is hired by the grower.

According to truck growers, most of the Comanche County watermelons, peas and fruits are sold by truck men, who come here and buy a load of what they wish to peddle and go from town to town until it is sold out.

It is pointed out by the growers that since many of these peddlers operate over forty or fifty counties that the license fee becomes so heavy they can not afford to do this, with the result that the number of buyers for what Comanche County farmers have to offer will be very much lessened, and of course lessened buyers means more limited market outlets and lower prices, the growers say.

Proponents of the measure in the Legislature argued that the tax would tend to make peddlers keep to more or less the same territory and thus prevent the sale of inferior merchandise.

Should the law operate to cut down the number of peddlers, Comanche County farmers probably lose between twenty-five and fifty thousand dollars per year, it is estimated. The melon and fruit growers will likely suffer the major part of this loss it is said by those in position to know.

RECEIVE DEGREES

Miss Catherine Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Charles Clarke, had the A. B. Degree conferred upon her at the commencement exercises of Daniel Baker College Monday evening.

The annual district convention of the Rural Carriers will be held at Brownwood in the Woodland Heights School Auditorium May 30, beginning at 10 a. m.

MRS. TEMPLE TO CONDUCT 5-DAY DEMONSTRATION

A "Live At Home" program from June 15th to 19th inclusive will be conducted in Comanche County by Mrs. Elizabeth Temple under the direction of the 4-H Clubs of the County, according to County Agent, J. A. Barton.

According to Mr. Barton, five demonstrations will be held in the County, dates and places to be announced later, and each demonstration is expected to consume most of a day.

Mrs. Temple, who is employed by the Frisco Railway, is well known in Comanche County as a poultry specialist, but at the same time she is outstanding in the field of domestic economy in the South, though she has done little of this work in Comanche County because there is no home demonstration work carried on in the County.

Owing to the present depressed conditions and the splendid home gardens in the County, a greater amount of canning is expected to be done this year than over before in the history of the County, County Agent Barton says.

Further discussing this, Mr. Barton said that heretofore, the major item canned had been fruit, but this year the farmers, knowing they will have a short income on account of lower prices, will put up a greater variety of garden products to last them throughout the year.

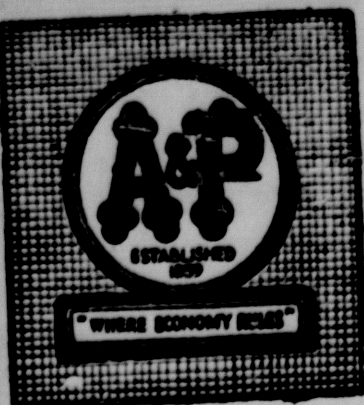

The "Live At Home" program is in no sense especially for the 4-H Clubs, County Agent Barton stressed, but Mrs. Temple's plans are to work through Club girls.

Mr. Barton and Mrs. Temple urge all housewives, whether they have a 4-H Club in their community or not, to attend these meetings, and arrangements will be made to can some materials for those who will bring this with their cans.

Let's have a SHOWDOWN on this matter of TIRE COMPARISONS

WITH all the conflicting claims published about tires, it is obvious that misleading statements are being made. The only conclusion that you as a tire buyer can draw is that either we, as Firestone Dealers, are misrepresenting Firestone products, or that a certain mail order house is not telling the truth about theirs. Both can't be right—one or the other is misleading the public by their comparisons.

Firestone, in their advertising, only make comparisons that can be easily verified by the customer before buying tires. To attempt to substantiate the comparisons made by this mail order house, it would be necessary to go into a laboratory and employ experts.

The very reason that the comparisons made in Firestone advertising enable you to get the facts yourself, makes it unnecessary for Mr. Firestone to make affidavit on the truth of his statements or to file any complaint with the Federal Trade Commission, and then advertise it, in an attempt to lead the public to believe his statements were true.

Mr. Firestone doesn't ask you to accept comparisons about Firestone Tires and special brand mail order tires until you see the facts yourself. Neither do we. All we ask is that you make your own comparison.

We have cross sections cut from special brand mail order tires purchased from stocks of mail order house and from Firestone Tires—no "tricky" or misleading comparisons—come in today and make your own comparisons for Quality, Construction, and Prices. YOU and YOU ALONE be the judge!

The Way of Life

by BRUCE BARTON

Other People's Success

I went to the opening night of a play. Between the acts we were talking with the author when a friend rushed up. "It's going to be a great success, old man," he cried. "I congratulate you."

Then his expression suddenly changed. Jealousy shot into his eyes. "I wish I knew how you get away with it," he exclaimed. "Why in the world can't I write a play?"

As he walked away we looked after him with pity. We know him well. We have seen him act the same way before. His whole attitude is introspective. Envy gnaws forever at his soul.

One of the most pathetic figures in the literary history of England was the author George Gissing. What was the secret of his constant unhappiness? He reveals a part of it in presenting the hero of one of his own novels:

Intensely self-conscious, he suffered from a habit of comparing, contrasting himself with other men, with men who achieved things, who made their way, who played their part in the world. He could not read a newspaper without reflecting, sometimes bitterly, on the careers and position of men whose names were prominent in its columns.

Philosophers and religious teachers have attempted in various ways to account for the gross inequalities of life, and to hold out future hope to those who seem to have received only a niggardly portion of happiness.

Christian theology presents the promise of another world where rewards will be distributed in proportion to sacrifice, courage and fidelity to truth.

The reincarnationist holds that the soul is but a short time tenant in any human frame; that if I make spiritual progress in this incarnation I shall reappear in happier form; or, failing to progress, will be demoted, to work my way painfully up again.

Until we have passed across the River we shall not know which, if either, of these philosophies is true.

Meanwhile, the sensible man is not afraid to face frankly the facts about life and about himself. He recognizes that he was born with certain limitations; that, however strong the desire for brilliant achievement, he has neither the talent nor the opportunity. He recognizes further that success, as the world views it, contains a very appreciable element of chance.

He surveys his own equipment and tries serenely to do the best he can with whatever he has. As he grows older and more mellow, he recognizes that every minute of jealousy poisons his own soul.

And that he can vastly increase his own pleasure by the habit of enjoying other people's success.

POEM APPEARS IN ST. LOUIS PAPER

A poem written by Mrs. Mary A. Parrish of Carbondale, Illinois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Zacheschke of Comanche, recently appeared in the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

The poem and a letter concerning it from George Lombard, former Dallas News paper man, are given below:

St. Louis, Missouri
May 15th, 1931

Mary A. Parrish, Carbondale, Illinois.
Dear Madame:

I read with pleasure your contribution in the St. Louis Globe Democrat of this morning, copy of which I am attaching.

I can fully appreciate the tribute you pay to our native glory, the bluebonnet as I, too, am an expatriated Texan, having spent more than twenty years in San Antonio and Dallas.

Perhaps you would be interested in knowing that I am passing the clipping on to a close friend of mine, Mr. J. J. Taylor, an editorial writer for the Dallas Morning News, who writes under the nom de plume of "State Press."

Very sincerely yours,
George Lombard.

TO A FELLOW TEXAN
From the East to the West,
She's the fairest and best,
And she wears a bluebonnet for you;

There's a smile on her face,
She's the picture of grace,
For she wears a bluebonnet for you.

For the heroes of fame,
Who died in her name,
She wore a sweet bluebonnet, too,

Be it yours to hold high
Like a light in the sky,
And she'll wear a bluebonnet for you.

Then cherish her name,
Fair Texas, the same,
There's nothing she can't do for you.

With true Texas pride,
She stands by your side,
And wears a bluebonnet for you.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Clarence Bryant, Minister.

A question asked by inspiration should cause man to think seriously. There are two questions asked in 1 Peter 4:17-18, which every accountable person should consider. Those questions are as follows: "what shall be the end of them that obey not the gospel of God? And if the righteous are scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear?" It is not possible for me to answer those questions. Like all men, I do not know the future and God's word tells me that "it is not within man to direct his steps." Therefore I turn to our All-wise God for an answer to the above questions, which are answered in 2 Thessalonians 1:7-8. Jesus shall be revealed from Heaven with His mighty angels, in flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. Some may not have faith in such future punishment because they cannot reason it out but things happen every day that they cannot know by reason, for example, we eat bread and meat, how does it turn to blood, flesh and bone?

It is very plain that three classes of people are included in the last question. "And if the righteous are scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear?" It is like this: One field could have three different crops in it: cotton, corn, and wheat. The world has three different kinds of people in it: the righteous, the ungodly and sinners. Who are the righteous? Who are the ungodly? and who are the sinners? Which class are you in? The ungodly and sinner shall be burned with flaming fire (2 Thess. 1:7-8). And that flaming fire shall never destroy their bodies for Paul tells us that we shall be resurrected with an imperishable body (1 Cor. 15:42). Hell, the place for that (wicked) imperishable body is a place of torment (Luke 16:23).

Who are the righteous? The first question, "What shall be the end of them that obey not the gospel of God?" implies that we are made righteous by obeying the gospel. Paul tells us in Rom. 6:17 exactly how it is done. We became obedient from the heart to that form of doctrine whereunto ye were delivered and being made free from sin, ye became servants of righteousness. That form of doctrine delivered unto them was the gospel which Jesus told His apostles to preach (Mark 16:15-16). While baptism is a command in the gospel it is not the only command in it. Obeying the gospel is not something we do by performing one act of it but it is obeying every part of the gospel—loving thy neighbor as thyself, doing unto others as you would have them to do unto you, visiting the fatherless and widows in the affliction and keeping ourselves unspotted from the world. Jesus says, "if ye love me ye will keep my commands." Baptism is one of the commands, do you love Him? It is very irrelevant to make light of any command of God and just as irrelevant to say that they are non-essentials. After we have done our best to obey all commands in order to be righteous God through Peter says, "if the righteous are scarcely saved." We cannot do too much good here, we cannot make it too safe.

Who are the ungodly? A man has to be Godly before he can be ungodly. The alien sinner, the man who has never obeyed the first principles of the gospel, cannot be ungodly for he has never become Godly. Godly and ungodly are adjectives, that describe the noun, man. Every man is a good moral man, else he is a Godly or ungodly man. The ungodly are those who become Godly and then turn away. "For if after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, the last state is become worse with them than the first. For it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from the Holy Commandment delivered unto them. (1 Peter 2:20-21. Many people are going to be surprised at the judgement. Many think it is not necessary to go to church every Lord's Day, therefore they just go when it is convenient and when the desire strikes them. They "turn back from that Holy Commandment delivered unto them" which says, "not forsake the assembling of ourselves together." If we willfully neglect going to church, the good Book tells us that it will be a fearful time at judgement for us (Hebrews 10:25-27.)

Sinners, obey the first principles of the gospel and become Godly and stay that way. Ungodly, repent and henceforth overcome evil with good and never again be overcome with evil. Righteous, do your best at all time (and then you will scarcely be saved) then with the ability of all classes we can make it hard on the Devil. It is ridiculous to think that I can preach any man to hell or heaven, they go there by obedience or disobedience to the gospel. If a man lives right he dies right if he lives wrong he dies wrong.

Mrs. M. A. Barnes Buried Wednesday

Pall bearers were George Black, E. E. Anthony, S. P. Smith, William Reese, George Wetzel and W. H. Carpenter.

Martha Ada Millner was born at Shiloh, La., August 15, 1854 and came to Texas with her parents in 1873, settling in Comanche County where she lived the remainder of her life. October 31, 1875 she was married to William Barnes who died in 1924. To them ten children were born, a daughter, Mrs. May Pulliam died in 1919 and a son, Elbe was drowned in 1908 at the age of 18. Strawberries Prove Profitable To Local Growers

Strawberry culture apparently is on the increase in this section judging from the number of producing patches in and around Comanche this spring.

Among those who are growing berries for the market this spring is Mrs. G. P. Stewart on Dublin Street who has a patch of approximately an eighth of an acre. Mrs. Stewart says that she has kept no record of her sales this year but the yield has been estimated at 30 crates and figured at an average price of two dollars a crate brought in a revenue of $480.00 per acre.

Mrs. Stewart who began her experiment with strawberries in the spring of 1930, says that most of them died out last summer, but she planted again in the spring and got almost a perfect stand and the yield was good for first year plants. Only a small portion of her patch was irrigated.

Less Dillard last year sold $297.00 worth of strawberries from an eighth of an acre and this year Mr. Dillard has already marketed 90 crates of berries at prices ranging from $4.20 to $2.40, the average price being around $2.75 bringing a total of $250.00. Mr. Dillard estimates that he will harvest at least 40 more crates to bring his total receipts for the season to $350.

To secure this heavy yield Mr. Dillard said he gave the berries all the water they could use, the patch using almost all the water from a well equipped with a windmill and two storage tanks. To further increase his acreage, Mr. Dillard would have to go to the expense of providing more water he explained.

Mrs. S. J. Hicks has been growing strawberries in her garden for home use for more than a dozen years and says that at nearly any time of the year except during the coldest months of the winter she has an ample supply for her table.

Her berries, Mrs. Hicks says are unusually fine this year. Gaston Elms last year had strawberries in his garden ready for the table every month except four. This year he has already gathered a fine crop and since the recent rains, the berries are fruiting faster than ever before he says. Mr. Elms has 115 vines and grows them only for home use.

Two thousand ever bearing strawberry plants were set out late this spring by Alex Robertson. The vines are looking fine. Mr. Robertson said and he is expecting a full crop next year.

WHAT DR. CALDWELL LEARNED IN 47 YEARS PRACTICE

A physician watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the system and it is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic purges and purges. He did not believe they were good for anybody's system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, go to the nearest druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restless sleep, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly cures round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults — White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at

Dangerous Business

Our stomach and digestive systems are lined with membrane which is delicate, sensitive and easily injured. It is dangerous business, then, to use medicines containing harsh drugs, salts or minerals, when we are constipated. In addition to the possibility of injuring the linings of our digestive system, these medicines give only temporary relief and may prove habit forming. To relieve constipation, take Herbine, the cathartic that is made from herbs, and acts in the way nature intended. You can get Herbine at
